Rosalyn's Emporium

Rosalyn's Emporium is a bespoke jewellery business established in 2016.

The main aim of the business is to share a love of designing & making unique jewellery.

Specialising in, but not exclusively making wedding & engagement rings.

- Make Your Own wedding ring experiences
- Bespoke Commissions
- Recycling Your Gold & Gems
- Jewellery making classes

With over 20 years experience I can advise you professionally & personally on all aspects of your jewellery needs.

Working with established & credible suppliers, skilled & trusted artisans your jewellery is finished to the highest of standards.

Share the memorable experience of making your own or your partner's wedding rings.

The experience is aimed at complete beginners. Workshops are private for each couple & held in my home which is in Chesham, Bucks, UK.

You will be charged a day rate per couple for the experience day. This rate includes anything common to rings such as hallmarking & a ring box.

Additional costs for the materials required to make your wedding rings & any extras or bridal party gifts will be quoted individually & added to the day rate.

I buy metals to order so can offer a very competitive rate, based on current market prices. Full details & example costs:

Precious metals available are:
9ct & 18ct Yellow, White & Rose Gold,
Palladium, Platinum & Silver.

Following a free consultation I will establish how much material you need to make your specific rings. I only buy what I need to ensure the best possible price for you.

Additional extras include engraving, plating & stone setting. Engraving can be done by machine, hand or laser depending on what's required & your budget. Fingerprint engraving is available.

I also offer a recycling service for existing hallmarked gold jewellery. Gold & stones can be reformed & used in your new ring/s.

If you are unsure about the metals to use or style of wedding ring you want please read my FAQ's before contacting me.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

R E

Rosalyn's Emporium

Bespoke design & make service is available for anyone who wants to have a unique wedding ring experience but not make them.

Bespoke means that I work to your budget, advise & source the best materials to suit you.

I specialise in fitted wedding rings which are mostly required when you have an unusually shaped engagement ring, or want to incorporate a material or design that isn't 'standard'.

To ensure the best possible finish I occasionally outsource some areas of jewellery making such as CAD, resin modelling, casting, stone setting & engraving.

All of my suppliers are tried & tested with years of experience & recommendations. My aim is to ensure I offer you the most personal of services & with the most professional of finishes to your precious jewellery.

I love taking on new challenges so don't be afraid to ask me for something unique.

Recycling your own gold jewellery & gems is the most ethical, sentimental & cost effective way to make new jewellery.

Let me make something for you, or use your gold to make your own wedding rings during an experience day with me.

Generally any hallmarked gold & gems can be recycled & reformed into something new.

Alternatively scrap your gold for a small admin fee & use the value to purchase new materials instead.

Arrange a consultation to discuss what you would like.

Make your own jewellery during one of my silver jewellery workshops. Aimed at beginner level I will run small classes to ensure the most amount of 1:1 tutoring.

Select from a range of options mostly in silver but with some gold options too.

Classes will be listed on my website but if you have a group of 4 or less & an ideal date feel free to message me to arrange your own class.

Ideal for birthdays, hen or stag do's or just for fun.

Weekday, weekends & evening classes available.

This is a new area for me so if you want to know more please email for future details:
rosalynsemporium@gmail.com

See the SILVER JEWELLERY WORKSHOPS page on my website for current courses.

People that choose to work with me are looking for more than just monetary value in their jewellery.

My clients feedback reflects the level of service, love & care I put into my work.

*"Thank you again for a great day.
We're both still pinching ourselves at how good it was."*

"I genuinely think that you are missing out on something incredibly special if you do not go to see Rosalyn for your rings."

"I would definitely recommend Roz not just for wedding rings but for any jewellery you want to make special & have a bit of a unique touch."

"Calm, gentle & most organised, we felt confident & at ease right from the off."
