

Tips on Button Holes

How to wear a button hole or corsage

Why are button holes worn on the left ?
Because its above your heart !. A mans button hole should be worn on the outside of the button hole of the left lapel not in the button hole.

It is usually secured by placing a pearl-headed pin from the back of the lapel. The pin will then be invisible from the front.

Corsages are attached in the same way a male button hole is, with a pearl headed pin. The pin is pushed through from the back of the garment through the corsage and back through the garment. A corsage can be worn almost anywhere with the stem pointing up or down, but wearing the stem up will help not pull delicate clothing.

We can happy to attach your button hole on your wedding day.
