

Let me entertain you

Give your guests a day to remember with our round up of the best acts in the region

When planning our own wedding, how to keep our guests entertained was one of the toughest decisions we had to make. We wanted something to reflect our own personalities and tastes but also include all of our family and friends and make sure the party went with a bang! Without experience in planning large events this can be a daunting task and couples often feel the pressure of trying to cater for everyone. We caught up with some of Bristol and Somerset's best entertainers to get the lowdown...

Sarah Bailey Cartoonist

Caricatures are a great way to add a touch of humour to the proceedings and also give your guests a personal memento to take home with them. "I started caricaturing professionally straight out of college, travelling around the country's craft fairs and corporate events but best of all, providing an alternative entertainment option at weddings!" says artist Sarah Bailey. It provides a great ice-breaker for your guests while you're having your couple's photographs taken. "I work my way around the tables for approximately three hours, starting with the top table. Each drawing takes five minutes, couples and families often like to be together so it means I can easily provide all of your loved ones with a lasting memory of your big day," says Sarah.

